CHRIS HUGHES

Chris Hughes is a senior at Shorecrest High School from Lake Forest Park. He is a clarinet and saxophone player in the band at school, which recently returned from Ireland after marching in the St. Patrick's Day Parade in Dublin and performing in Limerick, Celbridge, Cobh, and Athlone.

His other musical experiences have included playing in the orchestra pit for school musicals, as well as attending the 2011 All Northwest and 2012 All State Band events. After playing in band since fifth grade, he was excited to try writing a band piece as a graduation project, and hopes to continue to study composition in college.

The purpose of any band is to give enrichment and joy to life. We hold that live music is enriching, exciting, and exhilarating to both performers and audience. It should be available to all people to either play or listen to as they desire. We see our dual mission as creating an environment in which adults with little band experience can enjoy the benefits of playing while bringing live music to people in the community who may not otherwise have it to enjoy. Our program is designed to meet these two needs and they are the foundation for our further development.

Originally, Around the Sound was Shorecrest High School senior Kirsten Klepp's senior project, an adult beginning band. The original group was called The Second Chance Band and had its first concert on April 5, 1999. Our current Director is Michael Alstad, who also serves as Executive Director at Music Center of the Northwest.
